Yes Howard did have a lobotomy. But it didn't seem to change him in any way and did not alter the course of the story so what you have is a fairly rudimentary memoir of a guy with behaviour issues and a difficult relationship with his step mum.

to expose the good, the bad and the ugly of his life. It was a well balanced account of a life disrupted in the worst way. For someone to take a little boy and treat him so badly, then to try to destroy him is heartbreaking. I am glad Howard has found love and compassion in his adult life.
