Salton CP1428W Hot Air Corn Popper, White ... This popcorn maker was a joke. Made a mess, popcorn (the kernels that popped) flew everywhere because of the design. About 30% of the popcorn kernels popped, 30% of the popped popcorn flew everywhere but the bowl. So you end up with 40% in the bowl. Very poorly made, I wouldn't recommend it!

Salton® Popcorn Maker The product works very well in making good popcorn. Just expect to have a little bit of clean-up, especially if using butter. Needs cleaning between poppings, as kernals get stuck under the stirring arm. No auto shut off, you MUST be near it to know when popping stops.

As the popcorn pops, the butter or margarine in the butter-melting cup will melt. Unplug the popcorn popper after the popcorn finishes popping -- approximately three minutes. Pour the melted butter or margarine over the popped popcorn. Add salt to the popcorn, if you desire. Discard any unpopped kernels from the bottom of the base.
